ON THE WATER

INSIDE THE TRANSFORMATION
OF A CANDLEWOOD
LAKE HOME

Bold Focal Point
RED CANOE

For this home in Greenwich—which was designed by Lynn Morgan Design—the team at Shoreline Painting was able to do something particularly cool in the dining room: The color of the room was based on a certain fabric, and they were able to create a custom-made paint color to match.

Inspiring Use of Glass

This view to the beach is framed understatedly by the foyer's sleek, glass-paneled staircase, airy chandeliers and subdued palette that echoes the hues of water, sand and sky beyond. The frame on the wall features 169 mini versions of art created by the homeowners' children.

Playful Use of Color
LULU HOME

The homeowners wanted “color with a playful vibe”—and that’s exactly what Lulu Home created in this teen’s game room in New Canaan, CT, which features bold yellows, oranges, blues and pinks, as well as a custom-made ping pong table and—coolest of all—the teen’s name turned into a table.
